

Language and Cognitive Development Center

Dear Parent,

On March 29 and 30 The Developmental Therapy Center is hosting a workshop titled, "The Miller Method: Introducing Order and Disorder to Treat ASD Children."

On the first day I will present an overview of the approach; the second day, I will demonstrate its application with 4 children on the autism spectrum (one hour per child).

Parents of the 4 children accepted will be able to attend the workshop without fee. In addition, they will have a videotape of their child's participation -- including recommendations. For a child to be accepted for this consultation, he or she must be between 3 and 7 years of age and be either non verbal or limited in communication and/or social development. The child's parent will be present at all times during the consultation for his/her child.

To help me select the 4 children, interested parents need to complete the Miller Diagnostic Survey (MDS) located on the home page of our website www.millermethod.org and transmit it to me ArnMill@aol.com. I expect to make the selections within a few days of receiving the MDS. The usual fee for the MDS is waived for parents applying.

The deadline for submitting MDS is March 17, 2008.

Sincerely,

Arnold Miller, Ph.D.

ArnMill@aol.com

PS. For questions about the workshop or the consultation, contact Lana Novakovic novako@mac.com.